DECISION OF APPELLATE COURT—SUMMERS CASE

The district attorney's office yesterday morning received the opinion rendered by the appellate court in its decision in the Summers case. The government won the case in the lower court upon a waiver of trial by the defendant. Shackelford & Bayless, attorneys for the defendant, filed a petition for a rehearing which was denied. This second opinion which has just been rendered goes into the question as to whether or not judgment can be entered on a felony case without trial by jury. It was held that it could under conditions existing as in the Summers case.

The decision was filed at the same time that the supreme court granted the writ of certiorari on the application of defendant's attorneys. The hearing of the certiorari has been set for October 14 next. The supreme court will review the entire decisions of the circuit court of appeals in the case.

It is reported that all of Frank Manley's mining machinery apparatus and equipment that heretofore has been used in the Hot Springs district on the Tanana is ready for shipment to the Iditarod on the first water this spring. Manley will confine his efforts to the last named district.

Work at the Kensington mine started up last week.

SULZER OUTLINES HIS POSITION

In a recent issue of the New York World Gov. Wm. Sulzer of New York makes a strong appeal to the voters of that state to back him in his fight on the ring now dominating the politics of the Empire State. The platforms of the Democrats, Progressives and Republicans all declared for a direct primary law and the "bosses" stopped the passage of the bill in the last legislature. Gov. Sulzer has called a special session of the legislature to take action on the measure and asks the support of the voters to bring pressure to bear on the legislators to force them to action.

Edouard Methot was instantly killed on a large transformer on the North Fork line, near the Ogilvie bridge, at Dawson. His body was found across a live wire carrying 10,000 volts of electricity.

At the Episcopal Church

"In Command, Where?" will be the theme at St. Phillip's church Sunday evening, June 8th. All are cordially invited.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire through the columns of The Sentinel to express our sincere thanks to the many friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother.

HANS NELSON.
MARIE THOMSEN.

Surveying Kelp Beds

University of Washington sends out experts to map and estimate the value of Alaska's marine growths.

Following the crooked shoreline of Southeastern Alaska, from Dixon's Entrance to Juneau including the numerous island, mapping and observing the kelp beds en route, is the task before the party of botanists from the University of the State of Washington whose proposed expedition was announced exclusively in the SENTINEL several weeks ago. On May 1st, the G. S. Zarembo, Capt. Wm. DuBois, and party of experts set out from Seattle arriving in Wrangell Saturday, having cruised the shore from Dixon's Entrance north including trips up Behm and Portland Canals. The party left Saturday for St. John's Harbor and other points on the Zarembo shore.

The object of the expedition is to get data concerning the extent and value of the kelp beds in order to find the economic possibilities of utilizing it commercially as a fertilizer. Wherever the beds are found their location and extent are mapped, samples taken and chemical analysis made of the water.

T. C. Frye, Head of the Department of Botany of the University of Washington is in charge and associated with him are Dr. R. B. Wylie, Professor of Botany of the University of Iowa, Dean Waynik, Senior Chemist, Donald Clark and Capt. Wm. DuBois, who is in charge of the boat, Zarembo.

Several weeks ago, the gasboat, Gjoa, with another party passed through headed for Yakutat from which place they will examine the coast westward to Four Mountain Islands. The Southeastern Alaska party will double back on the Prince of Wales side of Clarence Strait, round Cape Chakon and skirt the outside islands northward as far as Juneau if time permits.

Port Simpson Up Stikine River

The Port Simpson arrived in Wrangell Saturday last at 2 p. m. and after taking on a full load of freight and a large number of passengers left Sunday for Telegraph Creek at the head of navigation on the Stikine River. A large number of the men had been in Wrangell more than a week awaiting her arrival and although loath to leave hospitable Wrangell, were glad to know that soon they would be at their final destination. The Port Simpson had a passenger list of at least twenty-five persons bound for different points in the Canadian interior and seventy tons of freight.

—Dan tried to meet them all—
"Smoke Loveras."

Transferred To Wrangell Station

John Perry, who formerly was in charge of the Signal Corps at Wrangell but who for the past five years has been stationed at Sitka, has again been placed in charge of Wrangell and assumed the duties last Friday. Mr. Perry is accompanied by his wife and two children and their many friends in Wrangell will welcome their return.

Memorial Day Observed in Wrangell

On account of the inclement weather on Friday last the program for the afternoon exercises had to be changed somewhat. Instead of holding the services on the wharf as expected they were held in Red Men's Hall and were largely attended.

The following program was given:
Song Battle Hymn of the Republic
Invocation - Rev. H. P. Corser
Address - M. F. Inman
Flower Song and Strewing of Flowers, Margaret Grant, Gusie Leonard, Viola Walsh, Hannah Smith, Mary Smith and Andrew Engstrom.

EVENING SERVICE
Song Tenting On the Old Camp Ground
Invocation - Adj. Smith
Reading "Memorial Day"

Miss Felice Pyers
Address - Rev. J. S. Claark
Recitation "Our Soldiers' Graves"
Olive LaBounty
Duet - Coulter and Johnston
Recitation "The Lost Grave"
Andrew Engstrom
Recitation "Somebody's Darling"
Talitha Ensley
Song - America
Benediction - Rev. H. P. Corser
The services at Red Men's Hall in the evening were very interesting and a large number of our citizens attended.

Severely Injured From Fall

Wm. Gibbs, a fireman on the river boat, Port Simson, fell from the gang plank on Sunday last and received severe injuries, necessitating his removal to the Hotel Wrangell Annex and under the care of a physician. Dr. Shurick, attended the wounded man and states that Gibbs is doing very nicely at this time. It was a narrow escape from death.

Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon; Senator Wesley L. Jones, of Washington; Delegate Wickersham, of Alaska; John E. Ballaine and others are trying to forestall the movement that is under way to have a Democratic caucus Monday commit that party to the policy of considering only the tariff and currency questions at the special session of Congress. They desire that Alaska legislation be included in the party program. —Empire.

Red Men Elect New Officers

At the regular meeting of Stikine Tribe No. 5, I. O. R. M. Tuesday evening, the following named officers were elected to serve for the ensuing six months, beginning July 1st:

Sachem, D. F. Lewis.
Senior Sagamore, H. F. Dawes.
Junior Sagamore, Chas. Benjamin.
Prophet, F. E. Gingrass.
C. of R., L. M. Churchill.
C. of W., P. C. McCormack, sr.
K. of W., J. E. Worden.
Trustee, for term of eighteen months, J. C. Ensley.

How About That Motor Boat Club

Some ages ago there was an organization in Wrangell known as the "Wrangell Motor Boat Club." For a time great interest was manifested in the affairs of the club and a regular set of officers were elected. Money was paid into the treasury, money was paid out of the treasury and money still remains in the treasury. A number of the members are desirous of reviving the interest once shown, and steps will be taken to arrange for a Fourth of July celebration. Come on, boys!

Lieut. Prosser, U. S. A., is urging wireless communication between Valdez and the interior, declaring it will save thousands of dollars during the winter months.

Death Comes to Mrs. Anne Nelson

Mrs. Anne Nelson, wife of Hans Nelson and mother of Marie and Oliver Thomsen, died at her home in Wrangell on Sunday, June 1st from tuberculosis.

Mrs. Nelson had been an invalid for many months and while her death was not wholly unexpected yet the announcement of her death caused a shock to her many friends and acquaintances in this community where she was so well known and highly respected.

The deceased leaves a husband and two children to mourn her loss. The funeral occurred from her late residence, Rev. H. P. Corser officiating. The interment was at the Wrangell cemetery.

The family has the sympathy of the entire community in their great bereavement.

A SICK BABY MAKES CHANGES

According to Sound papers Capt. Hickman of the Jeanie was forced to leave his vessel on her way past Seattle to Tacoma, owing to the sickness of his little daughter. The Jeanie was on her way to the smelter when she was stopped by a launch and the captain told of the condition of his family. He boarded the launch, and the mate took the boat on to her trout can be curtailed.

Mexico is to have a popular election in October and it is expected that the populace will abide by the result for a month at least.

Wrangell's future never looked brighter than at the present time.

Wrangell has the prettiest harbor in Southeastern Alaska.

Hurry up and get Front street in good condition. Two weeks more and then the tourist. We want them to form a good impression of our town so that when they return to their homes in the States they will have a good word to say for Wrangell.

D. T. Erwin of Fairbanks has been confirmed by the Senate. His appointment as Marshal for the 3d Division has stirred up a hornet's nest and general dissatisfaction is expressed over his appointment.

Ketchikan is enjoying a mining boom at present, according to a statement made by H. C. Strong, president of the Northland Steamship Co.

Never in the history of Alaska has there been such universal satisfaction expressed as in the appointment of Major J. F. A. Strong for governor. Without an exception every newspaper in Alaska has a good word to say for the Major. With such solid support the Governor should find his task an easy one.

The Fairbanks baseball season began May 17th. Last year they had a local league with four teams. Two already have organized for this year and it is expected that two or three more will be in the field soon. Senator L. V. Ray has been elected City Attorney of Seward, and the salary of the position increased from $25 to $50 per month.

Vandals knocked all the windows out of the Fifth Avenue Hotel in Skagway. The hotel was vacant.

A. H. Yoeman, the champion cricketer player of Alaska, is a crick in the Skagway postoffice.

Again large hearted Easterners are talking of giving part of Southeastern Alaska to Canada.

WILL UNITE

Of vast importance to fishermen is a resolution pledging the support of the International Seamen's Union of America in the organization under one head of the fishermen of this coast, including the Alaska, United, and Halibut Fishermen's Unions, adopted recently by delegates to the international union's convention in session at the local Labor Temple in Seattle.

Authority was granted the executive board of the international body to issue charters and to aid otherwise in an ambitious plan for the organization of the fishermen of the Coast. The recently settled strike of the halibut fishermen was the deciding argument in favor of an all-coast fishermen's union, the strike being given as an actual example of how a strong organization could have gained what the halibut men asked for.—Ex.

Rev. John Pringle, former member of the Yukon council and Presbyterian minister, is a figure in a recent tale appearing in Collier's wherein it is claimed he holds the record for saying the last earthly farewell over suicides.

The Humboldt Steamship Co., operating the S. S. Humboldt between Seattle and Southeastern Alaska ports, has declared a 25 per cent dividend. Max Kalish has been re-elected vice president and general manager.

A funny cable story from Africa is that the farmers are asking for a law to protect lions. The prevailing impression is that African lions are usually able to protect themselves.

Colonel Bryan says he sees an end of boss rule and bossism in politics. Good citizens generally will wish they could share Colonel Bryan's confidence on this point.

London papers are demanding that Colonel Bryan "eat his words" about certain peace plans. Colonel Bryan has new words enough at his command without the necessity of eating any of the old ones.

ALASKA GASOLINE

In order to double the capacity to the plant that furnishes gasoline and other fuel oils to the people of Alaska the Amalgamated Development Company, composed of Vancouver capitalists headed by James McMahon, recently made the final payment of $125,000 for fifty-six oil claims near Comp-troller Bay, owned by the Alaska Development Company, a Seattle organization headed by Charles F. Munday. The claims were optioned to Clark Davis at $300,000, and sold to the Vancouver syndicate at an advance on this price. The Amalgamated Company has four wells, each producing from thirty to fifty barrels of crude oil per day. Their refinery has a capacity of 250 barrels a day, but this is to be increased to 500 barrels a day. One well is 912 feet deep. The company plans to enter the gasoline and distillate business all over Alaska.

Brings Petersburg Logs

A boom of 400,000 feet of logs was towed in from Petersburg this week by the Wrangell Sawmill tug, Alaska. This is the first boom of a number which the local mill purchased this spring from the Pacific Coast & Norway Packing Company which is not operating their sawmill this season.

Steamer Alaska Leaves for Sitkoh Bay

The Steamer Alaska, from the Wrangell Mills, left for Cape Edwards, near Sitkoh Bay, with 30,000 salmon boxes.

Miss Virginia Clark To Graduate

Invitations have been received by a number of our citizens requesting their attendance at the graduating exercises of Whitworth Academy, Tacoma. The invitations were sent by Miss Virginia Clark, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Clark, of Wrangell, who is one of the graduating class.

A petition containing 400 names said to be those of qualified electors of Alaska, was secured at Valdez asking the President to appoint former Mayor F. M. Brown, of that city United States District Judge for the Third Judicial Division.

There is much excitement in Washington over the report that some foreign nation has stolen the plans of proposed Greatnought. Well, the way to get the joke on the thief is to fail to build the boat.

W. C. Sime, the territorial assayer at Whitehorse has instructed people shipping ore to him for an assay to send samples large enough to permit of a double assay and the saving enough more of the ore for an umpire test.

The Gulkana bridge on the Valdez - Fairbanks road was completed May 6th. This completes the bridging of the last stream of importance between the termini of the Trans-Alaska road. The bridge crew of the road commission is now constructing the bridge across the Klutina near Copper Center.

The Sentinel office is promised a power press in the near future for all of which we are truly thankful.

THE OUTLOOK FOR PACIFIC COAST MINING

As the season opens the outlook for mining development on this coast is excellent. All along the line from Oregon to Nome new work is being started and new enterprises financed; many of these are small but they are the beginning of greater things and even in themselves aggregate a large sum.

Every camp in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, British Columbia, Alaska and the Yukon shows more signs of progress and prosperity than in any spring of recent years. In parts of Oregon, Idaho, British Columbia and Alaska it is placers that have the call and dredging, as well as hydraulic mining and sluicing that is commanding attention. In other parts of Oregon, Alaska and British Columbia it is milling gold ores that are being exploited and in other districts it is copper, lead, zinc and tin that are being sought.

Dredging and free milling gold are unquestionably the leaders in the market, and the most men and the heaviest money is going into these avenues. Copper exploitation is confined to a few localities but those few are large operations in each case, but this is always so for payable small copper mines are rare things in any country.

Enterprise is not confined to the commoner metals and ores, everything in the mineral line has its searchers and exploiters. In one place it is manganese, at another it is infusorial earth, fire clay or cement making materials.

The hidden wealth and the mineral possibilities of this coast are being appreciated today as never before and capital is forthcoming to make this appreciation effective. The present season will on the whole be by far the best we have ever had in mining and allied industries.—Pacific Mining Journal.

Valdez: The plans of the Road Commission for the Valdez date provide for an outer protection of rafting work on the river, and the natives of Tatletuk have already offered to do the work and have furnished a bid which it is believed will be very satisfactory. The natives first secured plans from the engineer officer of the commission, Lieut. Edgerton, and practiced for some time to ascertain how long it would take them to do the work, then they brought samples to the commission and offered a bid which is said to be very satisfactory. The plans of the commission have not been made public, but Col. Richardson made the statement that he intends to build the most substantial dike possible for the amount of money allotted.

The Koyukuk Trading & Transporting Company has been organized in Fairbanks and articles of incorporation filed with the clerk of the court. The new company is to operate a line of steamers on the Koyukuk river between the Yukon and the Koyukuk mining sections. The steamers, the Beron and the Dusky Diamond, are to be used this summer.

M. F. Inman and M. Katzenmeyer left today for Snake Creek on a fishing trip.

News of Local Interest

Sunday last was one of complete sunshine and thus far the warmest day of the year.

Mrs. J. F. Walsh, of Wrangell, is spending the week in Petersburg visiting Mrs. Duryea and other friends.

The fortune tellers who recently infested Wrangell, left on Monday last for pastures new. It is said that they made a great cleanup while here.

Fred Lynch returned Friday night last from a trip to the west coast on the Ida May.

T. R. Needham made a business trip to Juneau on the City of Seattle Friday last.

J. D. Dawes, who has been in Juneau the past ten days, returned on the City of Seattle. Mr. Dawes leaves for the Sound on the Spokane Friday.

A. E. Light, formerly Secretary to the Delegate, Tom Cole and Secretary of the Senate at the recent legislature, were passengers south on the Seattle, Monday. Mr. Light will remain in Seattle for two or three weeks when, with his wife, he will leave for Ruby, Alaska, where he has extensive interests.

Colyn Blaine, of Douglas, having in charge an insane man from Treadwell, was a passenger south on the City of Seattle Monday. He will take his charge to the Mount Tabor Asylum.

The City of Seattle called in at Kellisnoo, Funter Bay and the Geo. T. Myers cannery on its down trip this week.

Mr. Cecil Denney, proprietor of Tamale parlor, left on the City of Seattle Monday for Ketchikan from whence he will go to the Bell Island hot springs in hopes that the waters will work a cure for the rheumatism from which he has been suffering for several weeks.

Jack Claussen, who has been in Juneau several days, returned on the Seattle, Monday.

A Seattle dispatch says that former Governor, Walter E. Clark of Alaska, says "There will be no hope for Alaska development on a large scale until the people of the East get away from the idea that the territory's chief usefulness is the location for experimental stations of scientific bureaus."

Mrs. H. D. Campbell, who has been visiting in Ketchikan, returned on the Humboldt Sunday evening.

The stock in the Lovera Cigars is coming better than ever.

It is stated that unless more interest is manifested by our businessmen in the affairs of the fire department that the department will disband. A representative of the SENTINEL was instructed to say that a special meeting of the department will be held on Friday night and that it is the intention of the Chief and Foreman to resign unless steps are taken to build up the department.

The dance at the Rink Saturday was fairly well attended and a good time is reported.

The Princess May came into port northbound on Tuesday morning. Several of her passengers stopped off at Wrangell and will go up the Stikine on the next trip of the Port Simpson.

Commissioner W. G. Thomas who has been enjoying a vacation in the States for the past six weeks returned to his post of duty on Friday last.

A. B. Crawford, representing the Remington Typewriter Co., was a caller at The Sentinel office this week.

Supt. E. H. Josephs, of the Columbia and Northern Fishing and Packing Co., left on the City of Seattle Monday night for Altoona, Wash., to visit the Washington-Oregon plant of the company he represents.

The 36-foot river scow built for A. H. Lawrence at Fletcher's shop was given a trial trip Monday. She is powered with a 24 h.p. Fairbanks Morse motor.

The 35 h.p. Chicago motor for Fletcher's speed boat was received on a recent boat.

A new 20-foot launch was launched from Fletcher's shop Monday evening. R. E. Hooker, of Los Angeles, California, owner of the boat, Wm. Fletcher and Geo. Klauquits went to the Stikine Tuesday for a short hunting trip.

H. D. Campbell is making some alterations in Red Men's hall this week.

Ben F. Hill, Sargeant Signal Corps U. S. army, who has been operator in charge of the local army telegraph station, was a passenger north on the Jefferson to Juneau where he has been transferred. Sargeant Hill has given universal satisfaction in the discharge of his duties and his removal is regretted even though his place is filled by another efficient man.

On Saturday last Capt. George Whitman of Petersburg, started for Wrangell with his new stern-wheel boat Nabob, and while under way met with an accident to the machinery which necessitated his being towed into this port.

The Humboldt was in port last night, southbound.

The Spokane is due to arrive tomorrow morning.

The City of Seattle will arrive northbound on the 11th.

Mrs. O. Carlson left yesterday for Petersburg where she goes in the interest of the Nu Bone Corset Co., of Pennsylvania, for whom she is the representative.

C. L. Cullin and party, who spent last week in Wrangell, left Monday for Telegraph on the river steamer Port Simpson.

Dr. C. A. Emery, the dentist, left on the Port Simpson Monday for Telegraph Creek, where he goes each year to fill the aching voids in that locality.

The town board will meet in regular session tonight. A report from the school board will probably be received at this meeting and some action taken regarding additional school facilities for next year.

Try a Lovera—better than ever.

Another matter which the people of Nome should take up as a body is the suspension, at least, of the railroad mileage tax law. The habit of some people sneering at the efforts of others to right such things should not be listened to. Too often men are prevented from taking up public duties by the fear of the sneering suggestions that their only object is to secure notoriety. For this reason public bodies very often fail to pieces and a community is left without an organized voice. Here in Nome the repeal of the mileage law would exert a sure and beneficial influence. If the Seward Peninsula Railroad be able to run next summer it would mean the greatest possible aid to the whole section. Surely, Nome people are not taking care of their own interests when they fail to strive for this law's removal. Nome Nugget.

The Prisoner of Zenda Tonight

J. R. Bender, manager of the local picture show is to be congratulated on securing for Wrangell the great Hackett Play, "The Prisoner of Zenda" which will be produced tonight at his theater beginning at 7:30 o'clock and lasting two hours.

The photoplay in five parts was produced by Daniel Frohman, using James Hackett in the dual role of King and King's Cousin, also the entire original company of the famous Hackett players and 1,000 people in support of the leading cast.

The fact that it cost $75,000.00 to produce this motion picture justified the Dramatic Mirror, Moving Picture World, and other theatrical critics to pronounce it the greatest production ever attempted. Those who have read the book, by Anthony Hope, or have seen the play by Hackett can realize what a stupendous undertaking Mr. Frohman attempted.

The successful filming of the Prisoner of Zenda marks a new epoch in the motion picture world at other plays will be produced and in isolated localities it will be a boon.

Bishop Stringer, of the Church of England has laid the bible on the shelf in the Mooschide village near Dawson and is introducing soap and mop with excellent results.

His Injuries May Prove Fatal

Carl Jensen, employed at the A. P. A. cannery, on Wednesday last, fell from the wharf to the deck of the Steamer Chilkat, a distance of fifteen feet, striking on his head and shoulders causing concussion of the brain. He remained in a comatose condition for several hours and it is feared that he cannot recover. Dr. Dawes was called to attend the injured man and after doing all that could be done, the patient sent to the Marine Hospital at Ketchikan. The Chilkat left yesterday with Mr. Jensen and it is hoped he may recover. LATER—Mr. Jensen died about one hour after reaching Ketchikan and was brought back to Wrangell for burial.

President Wilson yesterday told Democratic House Leader Oscar W. Underwood that he is greatly interested in the Alaska situation and believes that it is a matter that Congress should take up seriously at an early date. It is now regarded as likely that the Democratic caucus Monday will include the Alaska question with the tariff and currency problems to be taken up and disposed of at the special session.—Empire.

Fairbanks will repeat the annual midnight celebration on the shortest night of the season this year. It will take place June 22-23. The fraternal and social societies will participate in the midnight carnival.

The Seacoast Mining Company's property on Shoup bay near Valdez has been financed and a ten-stamp mill will be erected on the property next month according to the Valdez Miner.

HEATED FIGHT ENDS IN MURDER

W. R. Rodgers shot and instantly killed Jack Wixon at Christmas creek, forty-five miles from Haines, in the Porcupine country Friday. Rodgers rushed to Haines and surrendered himself to Deputy Marshal Harding Saturday. He claims he acted in self-defense. An inquest will be held in Haines, as Commissioner Odell is ill and unable to make the trip to the scene by wagon. The witnesses and the body will be brought in over the government road.

The above story was gleaned from the official report telegraphed to Marshal Faulkner today and the press dispatch sent over wire by the Dispatch Haines correspondent. It seems Rodgers and Wixon came north a month ago to prospect the claims on Christmas creek owned by Col. Gardner, formerly commanding officer at the port. Rodgers was working under Wixon's direction. He says he wanted to quit his job, but Wixon tried to keep him at work. Rodgers says he struck Wixon with a hammer. Wixon then grabbed a gun but before he could raise it to his shoulder Rodgers drew a gun and shot Wixon dead.—Dispatch

Jack Dalton, known as "Alaska Pathfinder" will spend the summer in the Kantishna.

At Nome the Eskimos are using oil stoves to heat their cabins. The natives find it easier to earn money to buy oil than to spend their time lugging driftwood for miles down the beach. The natives manage to earn some money making sleds, hunting ptarmigan, and in various other ways.
